HE STUDIED LINCOLN.

HENRY WATTERSON AND HIS LECTURE ON THE WAR PRESIDENT.

How the Great Southerner Came to Write His Lecture and What He Learned by Looking Up the Facts of His Subject. News to the Reporter.

That a southern man, honorably identified with the Confederacy and with a Democrat of national character and standing, should select Abraham Lincoln as the subject for a popular lecture was in itself sufficiently anomalous, but that the result of such an enterprise should be eminently successful, drawing great and enthusiastic audiences, no less in the south than in the north, was, to say the least of it, surprising, and, as Mr. Watterson has declined to talk politics, a reporter of The Times-Democrat asked him how he came to abandon the very interesting party warfare of the period to plow in what upon the surface seemed so unpromising a field.

"The discourse upon Abraham Lincoln," said Mr. Watterson, "was the offspring of a few chance words of mine used in characterizing Mr. Lincoln as a man inspired of God. I was taken to task for this and put upon my defense. Knowing less than I know now of Mr. Lincoln, I naturally fell back upon the superficial aspects of his life, embodying the career of a man who lacked all opportunity to prepare himself for the great estate to which—late in life, without name or fame or official training—he had been called, plucked as it were by a caprice of fortune from obscurity, and at a supreme moment elevated to supreme command. I must have made out my case—or at any rate the Lincoln Memorial association of Chicago thought so—for they invited me to deliver an address upon the great war president on the next celebration of his birthday at the Auditorium in that city. This was not then possible, but a year or two later I yielded to their wishes. There followed so many calls for its repetition in the form of a lecture that in the end I found that I had imposed upon myself an undertaking far more reaching than I had originally dreamed of."

"You have delivered this lecture to southern audiences, Mr. Watterson?" asked the reporter.

"Oh, yes," quickly returned Mr. W. "and to none more responsive. The truth is, when I came to investigate the subject, to look closely into the record, among the many surprises I found none was more unexpected to me than the relation of Mr. Lincoln to the south and to the people of the south. He was the one possible Republican nominee for president in 1860 who wore no scars and nursed no griefs or grudges growing out of the antislavery battle. While Edward and Sumner and Chase and the rest were engaged to hand combat with the southern leaders at Washington, Lincoln, a philosopher and humanist, was successfully and serenely practicing law away out in Illinois. His southern connections were many and close. He was himself a southern man. His people were southerners. His first sweetheart was a Rutledge. His wife was a Todd."

"That is news to me," said the reporter.

"That is news to me, too," replied Mr. Watterson, and then proceeded:

"In none of his great speeches during the debate with Douglas did he use a harsh, narrow word against the southern people. Assailing the institution of African slavery, as a system, he declared that he would despoil no man of his property rights in the constitution, admitting that the slaveowner had many reasons for his belief in slavery and was entirely honest and sincere. During the whole period of the war he employed no vindictive or prospective expression, while there was not a day of his life that he was not projecting his great personality between some southern man or woman and danger. He issued the emancipation proclamation as a war measure, and as late as Feb. 3, 1865, proposed to his cabinet a plan to pay $400,000,000 to the southern states for the slaves upon the basis of the census of 1860."

"Is that possible?" interposed the reporter.

"It is more than possible—a part of the record. He who doubts it has only to read for himself. He will find that and much more bearing upon the character of Abraham Lincoln as an enlightened and conservative statesman and a generous, humane man. All these things were new to me. I thought I knew something about Mr. Lincoln. I discovered that in reality I knew very little that was accurate and was wholly ignorant of a great deal additional that was true. The consequence has been that my southern audiences have shared the pleasant surprise which filled me when I first broke into this storehouse of historic revelation. The fact is that Abraham Lincoln was a man's height above the men around him. Soon Seward and Chase were pastboard men by the side of him."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Neutrality is no favorite with Providence, for we are so formed that it is scarcely possible for us to stand neuter in our hearts, although we may deem it prudent to appear so in our actions.—Colton.

PAINLESS CHILD BIRTH.

Mrs. FRED HUNT, of Glenville, N. Y., says: "I read about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription being so good for a woman with child, so I got two bottles last September, and December 1st, I delivered a twelve-pound baby girl. When I was confined I was not sick in any way. I did not suffer any pain, and when the child was born I walked into another room and went to bed. I kept my Extract of Smart-Weed on hand all the time. It was very cold weather and our room was very cold but I did not take any cold, and never had any after-pain or any other pain. It was all due to God and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. This is the eighth living child and the largest of them all. I suffered everything that flesh could suffer with the other babies. I always had a doctor and then he could not help me very much, but this time my mother and my husband were alone with me. My baby was only seven days old when I got up and dressed and left my room and stayed up all day."

SPECIAL COUNSEL AND ILLEGAL CONTRACTS.

The question of the right of County Commissioners to employ special counsel when the District Attorney is prepared to attend to the business has been decided in the negative at Fresno, California. The Supervisors engaged C. C. Merriam at a salary of $125 per month to advise the board in the work of rebuilding the courthouse, which had been destroyed by fire. District Attorney Snow, instead of advocating the claim of the special counsel, objected, and Merriam brought suit in the Superior Court for the fee allowed him by the board. Judge Webb decided that the board acted without authority of law, and Special Counsel Merriam lost his case.

An Act of the Legislature of Nevada, approved February 19, 1867, provides that in letting all contracts of any and every kind, character and description whatever, where the contract in the aggregate amounts to $500 or more, the County Commissioners shall advertise such contract or contracts to be let, stating the nature and character thereof. All such contracts shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder.

A contract has been let in this county to special counsel at $1,000 in open violation of the Statute. Yet, if we understand the District Attorney, he not only approves but defends the illegal proceeding and defiantly challenges the editor of this paper "to point to a single fact or circumstance discreditable to any county official." While the letting of such a contract may not in the opinion of the District Attorney be discreditable it does not require special counsel to show that it is a palpable violation of the law, nor is this the only violation of the Statute referred to above by the Board of Commissioners, and as the District Attorney, who is a respectable gentleman, has allowed himself to be placed in the absurd position of defending such illegal acts, the inference is that he is controlled by evil influences.

PROBABLE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.

Although it is nearly six months until the nominations of Presidential candidates by the several national conventions, yet, at this early date, word reaches us from Chicago that ex-Senator Lyman Trumbull of Illinois would be the probable standard-bearer of the Populist party, and that his acceptance was probable. As the next in line Senator Butler of North Carolina is mentioned, and lastly Senator Allen of Nebraska is designated as the dark horse. Judge Trumbull's candidacy seems to be favored because of his bold stand against the concentration of capital, the encroachment of Federal Courts upon the constitutional rights of the people, and, finally, for being in favor of the rehabilitation of silver. His advanced age of 82 years, though, is liable to militate against his aspirations. Senator Butler declares himself out of the race, inasmuch as he has not within three years reached the constitutional age to become President of the United States. This would leave Senator Allen the solitary candidate. It is not worth while, however, to deal with probabilities in that line at this early stage, and it is well to wait until near the time of the holding of the national conventions.

THE FINANCIAL AND TARIFF QUESTIONS.

The gold men of both parties in Congress are endeavoring to bring the tariff question to the front and relegate the financial question to the back seats. With this object in view the Republican gold men advocate the passage of the Dingley bill, which is a cross between a protective tariff and a tariff for revenue, and the Democratic gold men oppose it. It seems to be understood that President Cleveland would veto the bill if passed by both Houses of Congress and that, they think, would make the tariff question the principal issue in the Presidential campaign as it was in 1892. The silver men of all parties propose to block the little game of the gold men by attaching a silver amendment to the Dingley bill in the Senate as they did to the House Bond bill. This will bring the financial question to the front side by side with the tariff. The Populists in caucus decided to vote for a free coinage amendment to the Tariff and Bond bills. The silver Democrats and Republicans co-operate with the Populists so that it is probable that the gold-bug scheme will not be consummated.

TURKISH ATROCITIES.

Later and more reliable reports from Armenia state that in the provinces of Harpoot and Diabeker 176 towns and villages, containing 8,050 Armenian houses, were burned by the Turks and Kurds. The Armenians in these towns and villages numbered 92,000, of whom 15,845 were slaughtered. The French Ambassador at Constantinople estimates the total number of Armenians killed at 50,000.

It seems incredible that in this enlightened age such atrocities could be perpetrated in the name of religion. The Mahomedans are taught to believe that they are serving God by massacring the "Christian dogs," and the Christians submit to the persecutions of the Moslems and lay down their lives rather than embrace Islamism and acknowledge that Mahomet was a prophet. Civilized Europe looks on with amazement and declines to interfere lest the interference should disturb the balance of power.

Stop Insomnia Before it Becomes a Habit.

NEGLECTED, SHABBILY TREATED NERVES THE CAUSE.

Rev. Dr. Smith at the Age of 86 Loses No More Sleep.

Unbroken Rest Natural to a Fully Nourished Brain—Paine's Celery Compound Has Never Failed to Cure.

From childhood to old age health is very much a matter of sound refreshing sleep.

No one can digest well, work well, feel well, or be well, who is night after night deprived of good sleep. It is physically impossible for any brain to keep on providing nervous energy unless the nights are devoted to nourishing its used-up parts. Protracted sleeplessness, where no effort is made to feed and calm the irritable nervous system, ends in nervous prostration and insanity.

To-day there are far more neuralgic headaches, far more rheumatism, sleeplessness and nervous prostration than during the last generation.

To combat the growing evil, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, made nervous diseases his special study. The fruitful outcome of his long years of professional investigation was Paine's Celery Compound. Difficult nervous disorders that had persisted despite long treatment, at once yielded to it. Men and women who had suffered for years from broken and unrefreshing sleep, from headaches, rheumatism and neuralgia, found that Paine's Celery Compound not only speedily cured these troubles, but that they worked better and felt more encouraged than had been possible to them for years.

As a practice instance of what this remarkable remedy is doing all over the country, the following from Rev. Dr. Wm. A. Smith, one of the best known divines in Southern New England, deserves careful reading. Dr. Smith is to-day 86 years of age, yet enjoys better health than ever in his life, and never loses a single good night's sleep. He writes:

GROTON, CONN.
"DEAR SIRS—In my early days, by great and prolonged mental suffering, I broke down in health and became a dyspeptic being obliged at one time to give up my work in the ministry on account of ill-health. I am now 86 years of age, and during my long life have suffered greatly from dyspepsia, torpid liver, constipation and insomnia, at times thinking that I should die for want of balmy sleep, and it is a wonder to me that I am alive to-day with all that I have been through. I am a wonder to myself, and those who witness my habits and know my age. I tell them that I try to obey the laws of nature, and that I take Paine's Celery Compound whenever I need it.

By the use of several bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, I have so far recovered my health as to consider myself a well man for my age. It regulates the liver, stomach and bowels, without any question. My appetite is now good, my sleep is refreshing, my liver active, and bowels regular, and my crutches not needed, as I can walk without a staff. People are surprised at my improved appearance and activity. Gratefully yours,

WM. A. SMITH.

Paine's Celery Compound does not stop its restoring work till new, healthy tissues have taken the place of the old, shattered portions. There is not the slightest, most minute portion of the body, whether it be nerve or brain, or some vital organ, that escapes the rejuvenating, strengthening power of Paine's Celery Compound. In cases of severe neuralgia, rheumatism, heart palpitation, dyspepsia and nervous feebleness, Paine's Celery Compound is the only remedy that goes to the root of the trouble, fortifies the weakened system against these disorders and builds up a strong, healthy body.

Jim Lamb, a Washoe Valley farmer, met with an accident on Saturday evening. He had been to Empire and when returning home his team ran away and he was thrown out of his wagon. He received a gash on the face that required nearly forty stitches to bring together.

At San Quentin, Lower California, Joaquin Martorel gambled away all his property and then shot himself and killed every living thing on the ranch, including himself and wife.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Allen Wants Private Soldiers Treated as Well as Officers.

WASHINGTON, January 14.—A bill granting a pension of $75 monthly to the widow of the late Brigadier General Cogswell, a Representative in Congress from Massachusetts at the time of his death, caused a long debate in the Senate to-day. Hill and Mills wanted information as to the system pursued in granting these special pensions. Allen opposed discriminations. He said: "I want to go on record as opposed to any distinction between the widows of private soldiers and those of brigadier generals, major generals or any other generals."

"It was the plain private soldier," he added, "who met the brunt of war. To hear Senators talk it would be thought that the brigadier generals won the war. It was a species of namby pambyism and flunkeyism this un-American discrimination."

Hawley suggested that the world recognized questions of rank even if the Nebraska Senator did not, and while eulogizing the plain soldier, he pointed out that mortality among officers was greater than that among the men in the ranks.

Hoar asked if Allen's logic would lead him to approve the placing of the salary of General Miles, Commander of the Army, at $13 per month. "It would doubtless measure the value of his services in many cases," answered Allen.

The Cogswell Pension bill passed without an amendment, the motion of Allen to reduce the pension to $50 a month being supported by most of the Democrats.

The House took up the Pension Appropriation bill immediately on convening. Northway replied to the criticism offered by Bartlett yesterday. It mattered not to him whether the pensions were legal gratuities or constituted vested rights. Morally, they were higher than vested rights could be. Pensions should be given in a broad Catholic, humane spirit. The spirit in which the pension laws were being administered was manifestly unfriendly to the soldiers. In proof of this he cited the case of a soldier who lost one arm and one leg, who was deprived of his pension under the Total Disability Act of 1890 because he was able to earn $25 a month as a guard at a railway crossing.

Snowbound in Washington
ARCHISON, Kan., January 14.—Information was received that Frank McCain, formerly a wholesale merchant in Atchison, who has been prospecting in Washington state, was hemmed in by snowdrifts with his wife and seven children in the mountains, fifteen miles from Winthrop, and they were in a starving condition. The oldest son by superhuman effort got to Winthrop and told an awful story of suffering. He said his father had gone insane, and the family would perish if they were not rescued.

Narrow Escape of Children.

RAHWAY, N. J., January 14.—Two little children of Thomas W. Robinson last night came near being burned to death from the bedding catching fire while they were asleep. The older of the children had heated a brick to put into the bed, and after they had gone to sleep the brick burned down through the ticking, and as Mrs. Robinson came into the room flames burst through the quilt nearly to the ceiling. She pulled the children out from under the covering, then threw water on the bed and succeeded in smothering the fire.

Baby Frozen to Death.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., January 14.—The five-weeks-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brewster was found frozen to death in their shanty last night. Brewster is a paralytic and his wife, who is blind, says that she went to a neighbor's to get warm and on her return found the child dead.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

THE FISH HATCHERY.

Nearly One Million Spawn Are Now In the Tanks.

The Nevada Fish Hatchery is running up to its greatest capacity. The tanks are all full and the eggs are just beginning to hatch. This is a most interesting operation and well repays the time taken to witness it. The little fish is seen from the time his eyes can be seen inside the shell, through the different stages, when he is transparent and his little heart can be seen beating, to the time he develops into a miniature trout with all the dignity that attends an opaque skin.

There are now in the tanks 800,000 Eastern Brook trout and 50,000 Mackinaw trout. The last were received Sunday from the United States Hatchery in Minnesota, and in a large lake like Tahoe will attain a weight of from 60 to 70 pounds. These eggs came packed in small canvas trays, packed in moss and ice, and of the entire 50,000 only 39 were lost by the five days in transit.

Some of these trout were put in Lake Tahoe, in the vicinity of Bijou, several years ago and also in the Hobart dam. Those that are now hatching are provided by nature with what food they will need for a month, at the end of which time feeding will commence.

In the spring 125,000 of the California Rainbow trout will be received and 50,000 Eastern Rainbow for the Elko Hatchery. Also a number of the spawn now on hand here will be transferred to relieve the tanks. The appropriation for the Elko Hatchery was only $1,000 and it took all this to put up the building, but the citizens raised money enough, by subscription, to carry on the work.

An interesting fact is that according to the money expended Nevada hatcheries, may be safely said to produce more fish at less cost than any similar institutions in the world.—News.

Carson Appeal. The Appeal wants it distinctly understood that any persons whose sympathies are with the boodle gang of this county, will confer a favor on the Appeal by calling and ordering their advertisements out of the paper. We do not want their patronage or their business in any shape, as we are not running a paper in their interests. We do not want their support, nor do we expect it. The Appeal is in the fight to a finish and we will not consider the fight over until the bribers of jurors and the corruptors of witnesses are wearing the stripes they have earned by their dirty work in Ormsby.

This community will not be safe until they are cracking rock or on the chaingang.

We welcome all the boycotts they can put on us, and if the fight don't get smoking hot before it is over it will be no fault of ours.

It is a question of whether we clean the community of this rubbish or get out ourselves, and we are willing to play for the whole piece.

We also wish to extend our thanks to many ladies and gentlemen in this community, who yesterday sent this office assurances of good will and substantial support.

The quicker the decent, self-respecting element of this community is ranged in line against the rascals who have fattened on it the better.

Let the lines be clearly drawn and let the fight be in the open.
